

Monthly Website and App Accessibility (a11y) Monitoring

Websites and apps benefit from systematic testing and analysis for accessibility (a11y).

When completed by people with experience and expertise, audits ensure that accessibility issues are identified before they become user issues and that an organization is systematically aware of a11y priorities on the site.

C4AT will review your website or app for 15 hours a month for Web Content Accessibility Guidelines (WCAG) Level A and Level AA conformance issues. The scope of work includes the following

- ✓ User-Testing: Components, pages, and screens are tested with users with disabilities, including users with vision, mobility, and cognitive impairments.
- ✓ Analyst Testing: Components, pages, and screens are analyzed to identify a11y issues with the code through automated and manual tests.
- ✓ Monthly A11Y report: A report identifies key issues with the following details:
 - Associated WCAG issue
 - WCAG Level: A or AA
 - Description of issue
 - Recommendations for remediation when applicable
 - Screenshot or video of the issue
 - Priority/Severity of the issue
- ✓ Review Meeting: A monthly meeting is held to discuss the audit results.

Contact C4AT to learn more about cost of service and to begin your monthly audits.

Contact: Center for Accessible Technology
Julia Petchey
jpetchey@c4at.org
(510) 225-7009